It's Never Too Late

Have you ever wanted to do something, but thought it was too late? Have you ever had an opportunity, but didn't take advantage of it? Did you let a dream die because you were too busy?

It's never too late to do what you should have done, have what you could have had, be what you would have been... if only... you had more education, you had been in the right place, you had known the right people or how to make better choices.

You have to go beyond "if only" thinking if you want to live an exciting and fulfilling life. You must give up your coulda, shoulda, woulda mentality.

Don't let habitual thinking cause you to get in your own way. You will probably have to step out of your comfort zone. Experiencing some discomfort is necessary as change never occurs without it. Be spontaneous and take a risk.

By now, you are probably shaking your head and thinking, "That's easy for you, Judi. You are a motivational speaker. But, how do I do it? Where do I start? How do I break out of destructive thinking, especially in this economy? Life is tough."

Don't sell yourself short. Be willing to acknowledge that you may have some incorrect perceptions about yourself, your abilities, and your expectations of what life should be.

Which direction do you want to put your energies... into your same old rut or taking a new path? There are a lot of people who, just like you, are wondering the same things.

That's why I have decided to produce

Life Choices: The Event to be held at the Tropicana Hotel, March 23 -25th. If you feel stuck in a situation that appears to be beyond your control, you may want to join us for an empowering experience which will start you down your pathway to the life you choose to lead.

When I was working in South Africa, I was asked to come to the Hospice in the West in Krugersdorp and present a program on "Goal Setting." At first, I thought, "What? Goal setting for people who are dying?"

So I prayed about it and the answer came. I entitled the program "Goals for Today. Everyone needs goals. Everyone needs something to look forward to."

But what do I say? Just go. You'll know what to say when the time comes.

And that's when I learned how important it is for each of us to really embrace the present moment. No one knows how much time he or she has left.

The ancient philosopher, Marcus Aurelius, wisely said, "Every man's life lies within the present, for the past is spent and done with and the future is uncertain."

Choose to live each day as if it is your last, and it will never be too late! Choose to join our 26 dynamic speakers at the Tropicana Hotel, March 23-25.

For more information on the event, call me at (702) 896-2228 or go to www.lifechoicesevent.com. You can register on-line or by phone.

Judi Moreo is the publisher of the Life Choices book series and the producer of Life Choices: The Event. She will be the opening keynote speaker on March 23rd. She is the author of "You Are More Than Enough" which is the title of her keynote speech. If you have ever felt like you aren't enough or you need to make better choices, be sure to attend this event.

88 Keys & Me

Eight original songs about the world Susan Haller lives in.

"What if I Loved You" asks questions between a man and woman as they decide if "ever after" exists. "Usually it's Raining" and "My Savior" embrace "goodbye" with compassion and "Give Me the Money" is brassy, sassy and full of humor. With Gospel, Blues, power ballads and intimate moments; Susan Haller, "Master Lyricist" and wonderful "low tone" singer, sincerely hopes the songs of her life will become your treasured favorites.
